

I would like to lend my support to keeping the law as it relates to the Wisconsin current "no call" list. It has made such a difference in our family life not to have the constant telemarketer interruptions during our evening meals. My family has made it a policy not to contribute or buy from telemarketers who contact us via the telephone. If they are truly serious about their organization or product, they need to send us information in the mail and we will make our decisions based on written materials. We no longer trust verbal information from a telemarketer having been burned once. Thank you.
